Go beyond open enrollment with one single-source system to handle the entire benefits process. With Netchex, employers have payroll, HR, BenAdmin, carrier communication and employee education built right in.

Personalized education and enrollment for every employee (and spouse if desired).

Administrative support to allow HR time for more productive tasks.

Carrier Communication to ensure payroll aligns with Carriers.

Broker maintains their advisory role and commission with better access to the benefits data.

Automated bill reconciliation and bill payment for Reliance Standard voluntary benefits plans.*

How Much Does NetEnroll Cost?

NetEnroll is paid for by Reliance Standard's voluntary benefits offering. NetEnroll comes at no extra cost to employers who are utilizing NetBenefits or the PEPM-Complete pricing package. Employers can keep their core benefits package.

How Does NetEnroll Work?

Employees (and their spouse if desired) enroll through a non-commissioned NetEnroll specialists. Calls are recorded and archived in case of an audit or dispute. Then the NetEnroll specialist updates payroll for the employer and submits the enrollment to the carrier.

What Are The Requirements?

Employers must have over 50 employees to be eligible for NetEnroll. When employers use NetEnroll, they must enroll in Reliance Standard's Benefits Box.

How Does NetEnroll Empower HR?

With NetEnroll, employers can feel confident that all of their employees questions are answered, and that all of the employee data is getting to the carrier correctly each month.
