Diminish skill gaps and develop your workforce with consistent online education with NetLearn, an engaging and effective Learning Management System.

YOUR CHALLENGE

THE SOLUTION

We have invested time into building our new hire training, but we don't have a great way to know if our new hires truly understand what we're teaching.

Build customized quizzes into your training material to make sure employees are retaining the info. You can also see how much time of a video was watched or how much of the training is left.

We don't even know where to start with training! There are so many compliance pieces, safety pieces, etc. that our team members need, but we don't even know where to find good content.

Access 3 different libraries each with 200 courses of professional content in categories of HR Compliance, Workplace Safety, and Professional Development.

Oftentimes our employees need refreshers on content or need to renew an expired license or certification. It's so easy for those to slip through the cracks!

With NetLearn, automatically re-assign training that requires renewal, or assign training when needed to a team member as a booster.

While we like video training, we also require certain in-person training and testing.

Build calendars where team members can register for in-person training, instructors can confirm attendance, and more. All which can count towards larger training initiatives.

My employees just aren't interested in training!

Build "games" complete with points, awards, and leaderboards to drive self-learning and create a culture of learning in your organization!
